

The Amazing Challenge

On this action-packed race through town, groups will face a series of unique challenges that will test their intellect, creativity and street smarts. Equipped with a survival kit, a digital camera and a comprehensive set of briefing materials, teams will compete in the ultimate adventure!

If you're looking for an Amazing Challenge geared towards a general New York experience, Paint The Town Red has an extensive database of fun, proven challenges from which you can select. If there's a meeting theme or purpose that you're looking to incorporate, challenges can be created and customized to your liking.

Sample Challenges

Sometimes it takes a little humor to cut the tension with a key client and close a big sale. Zip over to the New York Improv where we have a special 'open mic' night set up for you. Select up to two members of your team to go on stage and see why Improv veterans Chris Rock, Jerry Seinfeld, & Dennis Miller earn their money. Your challenge: make the club's talent booker laugh. So get cracking on those jokes, and hey, keep it clean.

You are going to be wining & dining a new client whose drink of choice is a sidecar. (He's an old-school guy who thinks cosmopolitans are way to shi-shi.) Before heading over to City Hall Restaurant find out what's in it because one of you will have to 'drink one for the team' and show us your discerning taste buds.

After teams have completed the race, Paint The Town Red will upload the team photographs and create a slideshow for everyone to see. A great finish to an exciting adventure!
